

A DIGITAL PR PLAN FOR YOUR AI STARTUP

In the age of AI, attention is cheap. Credibility isn't.

Organic, earned media for AI startups - global and regional,
executed personally.

Why digital PR, why now.

02 / 11

01

Everyone claims “AI-powered”

Demos are cheap and launches are weekly. Earned coverage is proof that someone with no individual stake in your business vouched for you.

02

AI answers are the new front page

ChatGPT, Perplexity and AI Overviews describe your company from what the press wrote, not your homepage.

03

Investors diligence in public

Before any meeting, investors search you on Google, ChatGPT and X. What's written about you and your founders is the first data room.

Being talked about actively beats backlinks 3-to-1. PR is now an AI-distribution channel.

Who you'd be working with.

Why founders work with me.

04 / 11

Incentive 01

I lead point on strategy and execution myself.

The person you brief writes the narrative, drafts the pitch, manages the relationship with the journalist and follows up punctually.

Incentive 02

Direct media relationships in every regional market.

I spent years building relationships in the local markets, so instead of hiring different agencies in different markets, you get one tight strategy. And since I control the strategy, the execution stays result-oriented.

Senior execution + market access, in one person. That's the crux.

Earned PR vs. paid press release.

ORGANIC · EARNED COVERAGE

Hard · and worth it

An editor has to choose your story. That's the point.

- Real editorial, in the journalist's own voice
- Very high credibility & brand authority
- Compounds, one story leads to the next
- The coverage AI models trust and cite
- Survives as a permanent, linkable proof point

PAID PRESS RELEASE

Easy · guaranteed · fast

You pay, it publishes. And it reads that way.

- Live within a week
- Tagged "sponsored", "press release" or syndicated wire copy
- Readers, journalists and AI models don't necessarily cite it
- Low brand authority and credibility

I work organic-first and craft paid media strategies if you insist on fast-tracking coverage.

Investors fund founders they've already heard of.

06 / 11

Pre-raise

Build the public track record

Expert commentary, podcasts and op-eds put your thinking on record before the data room opens. Warm intros get warmer.

The raise

Your biggest press window

A funding announcement is planned like a launch: exclusive, embargo, tiered outreach.

Post-raise

Keep the story alive

Vision op-eds, milestone and partnership press keeps the momentum going for your stakeholders, including potential partners, investors and customers.

If fundraising is anywhere on your roadmap, founder profiling is the highest-leverage PR you can do.
